Back injury

I have been using your Zrii for about two months now and have found great improvement on all symptoms I had pertaining to a back injury. I can now sleep without pills and have the ability to go up stairs normally again. All around feel good again. Thanks for putting me on to it.- GH

Parkinson's disease, high blood pressure, diabetes

As for my "progress," I've only been using zrii for one month. I've had Parkinson's disease since 1994, when it was diagnosed in LA. I had tremors since 1991. I was diagnosed repeatedly by six different neurologists, three individual movement specialists and three neurologists, as well as by my present neurologist. One month on ZRII, 1 oz QHS, and my Parkinson's symptoms are radically diminished: no tremor (which I've had since 1991, until this month). My handwriting is legible for the first time in 10 yrs and my wife of 50 yrs can read my calligraphy. My neurologist saw me yesterday and was completely amazed at my improvement! He found essentially no clinical symptoms of Parkinson's while examining me thoroughly yesterday, although I had a comprehensive list of symptoms when I saw him last May. He told me he's not seen such a positive change in a confirmed Parkinson's patient in all 35 years of his practice; that there's NO history of remission from Parkinson Disease patients entering remission, just slowing down of rate of continued decline.

Additionally, he found a lower blood pressure (it was usual around 180/100 before; yesterday, it was 132/82). Yesterday, my pulse was 72 bpm, not my usual 90-100 bpm. I had a quadruple by-pass in 2003, and am considered a high risk cardiac patient. He found no evidence of cardiac insufficiency. I also am a Type I diabetic; my usual insulin requirement was 10 units NPH, and 20 units of Regular qid. Now, I'm taking only 10 units of NPH plus 10 - 20 units of Regular maybe once / day. I am now sleeping 8-9 hrs at a time, not 3-4 hrs as before. haven't taken any Parkinson's meds for last 3 weeks. Actually, have taken no meds except insulin and furosemide (20 mg qod). 9-17-2008 - J., AZ

Menstrual cramps, low back pain

I used to have very bad cramps during my menstruation so that I had to take ibuprofen to have some relief. Ever since I started drinking Zrii, which is 3 months now, my cramps are vanished. For women with that issue, I am sure we would do anything not to have those "days". In addition to that I have had a bad lower back ever since I can remember. MRI has shown bulges and herniations. I have been taking zrii for 4 months now and I am amazed on how great my back feels (no more days laying in bed because of back spasms). S., Arizona

Back pain

Every morning when I woke up, my lower back hurt and I had to sit on an ice pack until it finally went away. Now that I take the juice, my back does not hurt anymore and I do not have to sit on an ice pack, the pain went away totally after two days and has not come back. M., Arizona

Energy, clarity, restful sleep

I have been taking Zrii for about 2 months now, and I have noticed a few things. With Zrii I have more energy, clarity, and deeper more restful sleep. I wake up in the morning in the same spot I fall asleep, no more tossing and turning at night. I love the taste of the drink. Also I will be checking my blood sugar and insulin levels soon and I am looking forward to see if there have been any changes. J., Arizona

Stress, anxiety, back pain

I have noticed less stress, anxiety, and pain in my lower back ever since I started drinking zrii. Zrii is a wonderful product. G., Arizona

Depression, stress, anxiety, menstrual cramps, knee pain, ADD, energy

I am very impressed with zrii. I have had great results with other food supplements, but zrii is more effective and less expensive than what I was taking before! It has really balanced me emotionally, and gives me much needed energy. I had severe cramps from endometriosis, which are barely noticeable after my third month on zrii. The mental clarity is amazing – I am able to focus throughout a meeting for the first time since I was a teenager! I am so excited about the benefits to my wellbeing (physical, mental, emotional, and financial) that for the first time ever I have chosen to promote a product actively. D., Arizona
